CANCELLATION POLICY

Updated on 18th February 2022

Under no circumstances will the Company ("CoinLord," i.e., Nine 99 Technologies LLP") consider a refund or cancellation of a successfully fulfilled order. Once a user submits a buy order that is fully or partially fulfilled, the money in the selected currency is immediately transferred to the sellers' account, and these transactions are irreversible. However, if a user deposits funds into their CoinLord Wallet, they can always withdraw the funds in full or in part, subject to the withdrawal limits.

CoinLord shall have the right to retain/deduct funds owing to user actions or transfer, except where prohibited by relevant legislation, to reimburse the User Account's balance. The purchase of any cryptocurrency is possible in any of the currencies listed on our platform like BTC, ETH, EOS, USDT, INR, BNB. The amount specified will be debited from the user's wallet. Users can sell any crypto-asset according to the platform's stated currencies, and the corresponding amount will be credited to the user's wallet.

IN THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS, THE USER IS NOT ENTITLED TO A REFUND OR CANCELLATION:

- (i) If the user is incapable of providing CoinLord with any requested information or documents following the conditions of CoinLord.*
- (ii) If CoinLord suspects that the user has engaged in, or is engaged in, any of the services offered by any Offensive Online Platform,*
- (iii) If the User engages in any manner been involved in fraudulent or unlawful activity, money laundering, or sponsorship of terrorism, or violation of any applicable legislation in any jurisdiction*

However, owing to our value of utmost customer satisfaction, under extreme circumstances, we shall consider cancellation of an order or other related queries on-call request with our CoinLord support team. For more information, you can write to us support@CoinLord.org.
